Sodality tells January plans

Mmes. A. N. Grass, E. G. Francis and T. Barry, entertainment committees of Sodality of Our Lady of St. Charles Parish, Waveland, received the congratulations of all who attended the group's Christmas party on Tuesday, Dec. 14 in the parish hall.

Gifts were exchanged, games played and excellent food served.

Among those present were Rev. Kevin Bambrick and Mmes. Edward LeVasseur, Ida Bourgeois, I. Curo, L. J. Hindelang, Edward N. Canady, F. J. Bergeron, Bernard E. Duhar, William Ford, David R. LeRoy, Donald R. Park, David Martney, Garfield Ladner, Marcus Eickhorn, Ada Edal, William Poulton and Thomas Placian.

January's calendar calls for monthly communion at 7 a.m. on Sunday Jan. 2, general business meeting at 1 p.m. on Tuesday, Jan. 11 in the parish hall and luncheon from 12 noon - 3 p.m. on Wednesday, Jan. 12, also in the parish hall.

Group seeks old 'specs'

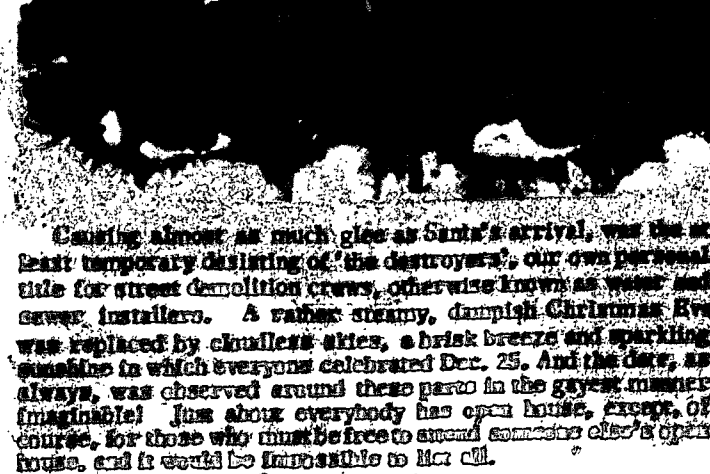

Discarded eyeglasses, antique and costume jewelry, and bits of scrap precious metal are being sought by New Eyes for the Needy, Inc., a non-profit organization who, in their Christmas appeal, do not ask for money, but simply for a chance to fulfill their mission.

Working with 250 volunteers, New Eyes collects discarded spectacles and frames, sorts and prescribes checks each lense and distributes a finished product to needy persons at home and overseas.

Over 45,000 pairs were placed into the hands of deserving persons last year and an equal number are required to fill current demand.

Jewelry collected is sold outright to raise operating funds or repaired, polished, appraised and sold during the weekly or semi-weekly Byles for the Needy jewelry sales.

Glasses, frames and/or artificial eyes should be wrapped separately and sent to New Eyes for the Needy, Short Hills, N. J.

Christmas festivities
Some pre-Christmas parties included Joan and Red Glass' party, honoring Red's mother, Mrs. Powell Glass, here from Lynchburg, Va., and newlyweds Ann Claire (Hager) Cochran (nee Glass) and husband Jimmy, who arrived on the coast for the first time after their wedding last August. The Glasses' Scotch Highland home opened with a musical program Thursday night and Joan's brain child, a living holly tree, replacing the usual one, was the object of much admiration. Just a few of their guests included Iva May and John McManis, Virginia and Fred Wagner, Barbara and Walter Rocco, Jo Ann, Joy Leavins and her lovely brides Anna and Gilbert Gayson, Don and Don Russell, Sam Farrow, more newlyweds, Toni and Jimmy Lawrence, Jayce Roth and John Jacob, Rebecca and Todd Thaman, Shell and Bill Johnson and a number of the younger set who have grown to regularly to their recognition come of them.

Santa's gifts

Everyone we've talked to reported that Santa was exceptionally generous this year. . . one of the nicest gifts was the second honeymoon Rev. Bernard and Edna surprised Mrs. Schart with to be financed with a cool one thousand in travelers checks. . . how about that? The Reverend arrived home in Waveland on Christmas Eve from his latest voyage to Egypt and Russia and presented your reporter with a perfectly gorgeous decorative plate made of hand hammered silver and copper. He also brought the boss, Red Glass, a large collection of hard to come by stamps from the Communist country.

Charlie Cox was most pleased with his gift from Evelyn. . . a Polaroid camera, no less. Pat and Joe Viguerie will be well pleased. . . Joe gave Pat a mint trimmed suede coat and she gave him a snappy sport coat. Peggy Hopting is proudly displaying the lovely bracelet that was her gift from husband Floyd, and Gerri Blanchard is beaming over two fabulous charms Sam had designed for her bracelet.

Ben and George Georgi passed on the news that the annual Hotel and Motel Owners Christmas party at the Edgewater was bigger and better than ever. They had as guests for the affair the Gerald Rosses, who by the way recently purchased a lovely new home on La Fitte Drive; Ruth and W. C. Frierson, Millie (Mrs. Joe) Church and another newcomer, Ray Laney.

Marlene Hart, who now makes her home in Pascagoula, was a recent houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Starnier. While here Marlene attended Tom Logue's wedding.

The Gene Burke's Yuletide was made more cheerful by the arrival of their daughter Patti, who came in from PRJC where she is a freshman.

With $44,500 collected to date the Hancock County Tuberculosis Association hopes to realize its goal of $500 with the next few days, according to Mrs. Anne Aracoma, chairman.

Legion's annual Christmas gift distribution day at the annual July 4 fair, the Christmas gift program drew nearly 500 more tickets than last year but even so numbers failed to exhaust supply and a surplus remains on hand for distribution in 1956.

Boy Scouts performed excellent crowd control duties and, as their reward, greeted Santa after their last charge had entered the Legion Hall.

Again, as in previous years, Santa took time out from a busy schedule to visit and present gifts to children stricken by illness and confined to hospital over the holidays.

Allien address reports due

All aliens living in the United States must report their address to the government during the month of January, according to C. W. Johnson of the immigration and naturalization service.

Mr. Johnson said in a recent release that forms with which to make the report will be available at all post office and offices of the immigration and naturalization service during the month of January.

In urging all aliens to comply with the reporting requirements he said, "Willful failure to report may lead to serious consequences."

helpfully added adding them to tell everyone here how much to enjoy working in the area and to thank them for their cooperation, etc.

Another lovely gift from Hollywood was a huge box of all sorts of delicacies from Leah and Bill Korman. . . fresh lates, pineapple and all were much appreciated, but no really much 'ops' over just odds of real avocados, which have been almost unobtainable here since Betty, and for which we must continue to paying 42¢ for one very small one last week!

Margie and John Auder and Chairo and A. J. Froy polished off the big weekend with a three day fishing trip on the Froy's yacht.

Corrie and 'Blue' Spall of Wichita, La., spent the holidays with daughter, Gerri, son-in-law, Sam, and grandson, Chip Blanchard. Gerri's brother, 'Hubbo', wife, Margie and children were also guests of the Blanchards.

Nancy Gax's parents, Grace and Sid Gould, arrived here from Franklin, La., on Christmas Eve. Grace was wearing her special gift, a lovely pair of diamond earrings.

Fishing notes

It was a bit too chilly out for most, but J. W. Spiers drove over from Picayune and bought 18 large specks and a good sized flounder in Bayou Caddy on Sunday afternoon. Clem Sert and the Long were going out Monday, but we haven't had a report on the results of their trip, although the, Fostie Fovro, Lou Williams, Tut Mond, 'Uncle Bud' Siler and Buddy Dufour came in with 30 large red fish caught in last Friday's series of downpours.

Around town

A happy birthday wish goes to Alice (Mrs. Armand) Beauchamp who got to use her Christmas present, a new bowling ball, when her husband took her out to Tower Lakes to celebrate on Sunday. Her birthday gift was a transistor radio.

Belle and Charlie Peterson both recovered from being quite ill just in time to enjoy Christmas. Belle had flu, while Charlie was being treated for pneumonia.

Roe Rasmussen was all excited over her brand new kitchen just completed in time for the holidays. The Rasmussen home was one of the warmest of Betty's victims.

Animal Notes

Must welcome a new canine neighbor. . . Doris and Cal Hirsch have just acquired loveable, very friendly male Pekingese who's very oriental name sounds like Chu Wang Lo. . . or something. SIGHTS AND SOUNDS ALONG THE WAY - A young couple walking hand-in-hand along the seawall, apparently completely oblivious to the icy breeze; huge camellias still bursting into colorful bloom all over the place; a group of youngsters testing new model airplanes in the school yard and the carle sound of their powerful little motors borne along on the wailing wind.

Peace Corps examination set

Peace Corps placement tests, to measure general aptitude and the ability to learn a language, determine how each applicant can best be utilized, according to Thomas S. Page, Peace Corps office of information.

The placement test for Hancock County and the Gulf Coast region is scheduled for 9 a.m. on Saturday, Jan. 6, in the main post office in Biloxi.

Applicants must complete an application form prior to taking the test and this form is the most important factor in the selection of volunteers. The form may be obtained from local post offices or directly from the Peace Corps, Washington, D. C. 20535.
